While this approach has advantages, it also has drawbacks: You'll need a good credit score, money for a down payment and a commitment to pay the monthly mortgage for the next 20 or 30 years. Do remember to disclose your salary from your previous employment to your current employer in Form 12B. My landlord is refusing to give me a rent receipt. Use our free rent receipt generator and save taxes. By getting the word out that you're looking for such a deal, you may be able to find offers that aren't widely available, and with no brokerage fees involved. While rent-to-own isn't the best choice for everyone, and not all rent-to-own deals are created equally, great deals are out there — if you know where to look for them. This arrangement lets you experience living in a house before buying it, potentially build equity as long as you buy the home, avoid committing to buying a house if your future is uncertain and locks in the price of the home. However, the price lock goes both ways — it can also harm you if housing prices fall over time. However, for those with low credit or who are uncertain about their ability to commit to living in a single area for a long time, leasing a house with the option to buy it from the owner later can be a way to finally have a home of one's own on manageable terms. The employer is required to collect proofs from you before allowing any exemptions & deductions. If you'd like assistance in your search, you can always turn to a broker or a real estate agent to ensure you get a good deal. Avoid last minute hassle of arranging rent receipts! Fill the required details! Print the receipt in PDF Format! Get the receipt signed from your landlord! Submit it to your company's HR department! Frequently asked questions about HRA! Why do I need to get a receipt from my landlord? Your employer needs a proof of rent payment to allow exemption on HRA. Just be sure to examine all deals carefully, as rent-to-own contracts can contain unfair terms or even be scams. The net amount is shown as your 'income from salary' in your income tax return.

In case you claim HRA exemption directly in your tax return, you must maintain rent receipts and lease agreement safely in your records; in case the assessing officer asks for them later. I have changed jobs this year. While rent-to-own isn't the best choice for everyone, and not all rent-to-own deals are created equally, great deals are out there — if you know where to look for them. Understand the Rent-to-own Process! For most people looking to get a house, taking out a mortgage and buying the property directly is their path to homeownership. Photo Courtesy: Bloomberg/Getty Images You can also go online and look for rent to own homes available in the neighborhood you want. Photo Courtesy: Justin Sullivan/Getty Images Additionally, you may be responsible for a portion of maintenance, there's no guarantee that a bank will grant you a mortgage at the end of the rental period, problems could crop up with the landlord and you could always fail to have the money to buy the house at the end of rental period, wasting your premium payment and rental credit. It is fast, convenient and easy. Can I claim HRA? Yes, you can claim HRA exemption for the months you were paying rent. Is there a deadline for submitting proofs (rent receipts) to my company? Since employers need to deduct and deposit TDS timely, they usually provide a deadline by which all tax proofs must be submitted. MORE FROM QUESTIONS ANSWERED! Many general real estate sites, such as Trulia, include postings for rent-to-own properties, while other sites, such as YourRent2Own.com, specialize in them. This document may also have to be submitted to your employer. Why does my company ask me to submit rent receipt proofs? To allow you exemption on HRA, it is mandatory for the employer to collect proof of rent payment. In addition to knowledge about the local market and available properties, these people can also connect you with the right finance options to help you eventually buy your home. This agreement must have details of the accommodation on lease, period of lease and rent. Photo Courtesy: Tom Williams/Getty Images However, for those with low credit or who are uncertain about their ability to commit to living in a single area for a long time, leasing a house with the option to buy it from the owner later can be a way to finally have a home of one's own on manageable terms. By submitting your rent receipts and other proofs timely, you can make sure no extra TDS is deducted on your income.

However, do not worry if you miss this deadline. Your final tax liability will be calculated accordingly. This is your employer's responsibility as per the income tax act. Do I need a lease agreement with my landlord? Yes, you need a lease agreement with your landlord. You can use this calculator to find out the exempt portion of HRA. Do agree with your landlord regarding rent receipts before taking the accommodation on rent. I was in a rental apartment for part of the year. Tell your friends! Photo Courtesy: Tim Graham/Getty Images For most people looking to get a house, taking out a mortgage and buying the property directly is their path to homeownership. The employer will give you exemption on HRA based on these rent receipts. Should I share my old rent receipts with the new company? If your current employer is allowing you HRA exemption from previous job's income, you may be required to submit your old rent receipts. Can I claim it myself? Yes, HRA exemption can be directly claimed in your income tax return. You can claim HRA exemption directly in your income tax return. Do I need hard-copy of rent receipts or is a soft copy OK? Check with your employer about the format in which you have to submit. Your TDS shall be adjusted so you don't have to pay tax on HRA. Do I need a receipt for every month? Usually, employers need receipts for 3 months or so. Do I need the PAN number of my landlord? If the annual rent paid by you is more than Rs 1,00,000, it is mandatory to obtain PAN of the landlord and report it to the employer to claim HRA exemption.

In case the landlord does not have a PAN, you can ask for a declaration to this effect from the landlord with name and address of the landlord. This exempt amount has to be reduced from your total taxable salary. Unfortunately, this process is not ideal for everyone. How these pros and cons affect you is ultimately tied to your personal circumstances, so think carefully before making a decision. Go Through a Mortgage Broker! So how do you find an own-to-rent home? You may be able to get a better deal on a place, and even if you don't, you'll at least have a feel for your landlord and seller's trustworthiness before starting a financial relationship with them. And keep it safely in your records. Do I need a scanned copy of my landlord's PAN card? No, you don't need to keep a scanned copy of your landlord's PAN. I was not able to claim HRA from my company. What can I do? In case your landlord does not provide you a rent receipt you may not be able to claim HRA exemption. The best way is often to turn to friends or family, assuming you've lived in the area for a while. Contact the seller and take it forward from there. Avoid the last minute hassle of arranging your rent receipts for claiming HRA exemption.
